Secure Hard Drive Shredding Services

Lakeshore Document Services Expands Secure Document Management to Include Hard Drive Destruction

October 2010, Muskegon, Michigan – Lakeshore Document Services in Muskegon, Michigan has expanded its secure document management services yet again, this time to include secure destruction of hard drives.

Hard drive destruction needs have been growing in recent years. Lakeshore Documents has always specialized in protecting the security of information. So a recent increase in volume drove company owner and president, Garry Olson, to invest in the machinery to perform the destruction of hard drives at their location in Muskegon.

“With the hard drive shredding equipment we are able to offer our customers great value and maximum security,” said Olson.

Increasing privacy regulations, identity theft and consumer awareness has created a need for secure information and data destruction. CBS News last year aired a report on the data found on digital photocopier hard drives. A digital photo-copier’s hard drive normally stores more than 20,000 images of the pages it has copied. As the copiers are leased, sold and bought data remains on these machines, often exposing individuals to potential identity theft and causing companies serious issues with privacy regulation negligence.

As experts in secure document management it’s a logical move for Lakeshore Document Services. Last year the company earned AAA Certification from the National Association for Information Destruction (NAID) for paper document destruction. Security and privacy are the highest priority of the company.

The hard drive shredder has extremely high torque. Large steel gears grind and smash the entire hard drive into twisted pieces of plastic and metal. For
